

GEN. GRANT PAID VANDERBILT.

That $150,000 Loan Was Cancelled, Broker Work Was Told.

Cross-Examined by Col. James's Lawyers in the Suit for $200,000.

The cross-examination of J. Henry Work by Lawyer Joseph H. Chase, in the suit for $200,000 against Work, before Justice Patterson, attracted a big crowd this morning in Part IV. of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Chase was distressingly pointed in his questions. He tried to get from Work an admission that he knew, during his connection with the firm of Grant & Ward, that Ferdinand Ward was cheating Gen. Grant.

Work replied that he thought Ward deceived Gen. Grant, but would not admit that it would have been impossible for Ward to so deceive the General without the aid of an outsider.

Mr. Chase read a list of sums of money, aggregating several thousand dollars, and asked:

"Are not these the sums, over and above the profits awarded to your friends, which you and William S. Warner divided?"

Mr. Work could not recall that fact.

"These signatures to these checks are the signatures of Grant & Ward, are they not?"

And the checks represent payments to Mr. Warner, don't they? They are dated Oct. 10, 1883. Grant & Ward were still paying them, weren't they?"

Mr. Work replied affirmatively and Mr. Chase asked:

"In fact, it is that your friends didn't get of the 23 per cent. profits in their contracts, and what you and Warner divided, isn't it?"

Mr. Work did not answer.

"You got the major part of that $1,200," said Mr. Chase on one occasion, "and 'poor Warner' as you call him, got the rest?"

The audience laughed, and Mr. Work replied that he did not know.

"You didn't put any into these contracts, did you?"

"Well, I thought I did considerable towards putting in that $10,000," replied Work.

"Yes," drawled Mr. Chase, "and you took the profits accordingly? There was to go in April 25, 1883, $25,000, and to come out June 1, $25,000, making a profit of $7,500. Now what part of that profit were you to have?" asked Mr. Chase.

"I cannot tell you," replied the witness.

"Well, I'll ask you," and Mr. Chase went over a lot of vouchers and deducted that $25,000 was drawn out of the deal by Gen. Grant on the final day, June 1, a profit of 12 1/2 per cent. instead of the 30 per cent. of the contract.

Two bills, one for $1,200 and another for $4,000, were produced by the former, who was shown by Work, and the latter by Warner, showing that they had received $4,250 of the profits. Col. James getting only $250.

Mr. Chase wanted to know if Mr. Work had made any effort to have restored the money borrowed by Gen. Grant from Mr. Vanderbilt. Mr. Work replied that Gen. Grant told him that the $150,000 had been repaid before the failure.

"Who did you ever tell that to before?"

"To Roscoe Conkling," replied Mr. Work.

"Is there any person alive to whom you told it?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Work said that about twenty of his friends had been induced by him to invest with Grant & Ward, but that it was not friendship, but business, that induced Col. James to invest.

SAYS EMMA GOT HIS $1,400.

A Saloon Proprietress Held for Drugging and Robbing a Man.

Emma Clark, the reputed proprietress of the saloon 310 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, was held in $2,500 bail at the Tombs this morning on a charge of drug robbery.

The complaint was Frank Rice, an engineer, of 218 Centre street, who alleges that Miss Clark robbed him of $1,400 in the concert saloon 27 Bowers on the night of Feb. 25, 1891. She was at that time a singer in the Bowers saloon.

Rice is a married man, and says that on the night of the robbery he entered the Bowers saloon and struck up a conversation with Miss Clark, who asked him to treat her. He did so and drank some wine with her.

He believes that the liquor was drugged. It was a delicate matter, and he did not recover his senses. He had the $1,400 in his pocket when he entered the place and Miss Clark was the only person in his company until he discovered his loss.

After the robbery Rice complained at Police Headquarters and Detective Von Gerichten was detailed upon the case. In the meantime Miss Clark fled the city.

After searching for Miss Clark for thirteen months Detective Von Gerichten found her on Tuesday evening at 310 Bedford avenue, where she was running a saloon, with concert-room accompaniments.

STILL THE TOMBIGBIE RISES.

Expected to Pass To-Day the Flood Point of 1874.

MONROE, Ala., April 13.—The Tombigbee River at Demopolis, Ala., is rising at the rate of six inches an hour, and great areas of low-lying lands planted with corn and cotton are under water. The rise from 6 o'clock last night was eight feet.

The river is within seven and a half feet of the high water of 1874, and will probably pass that point to-day.

The Alabama and Great Southern Railway track is submerged near Eps Station, and the trains of that road are using the East Tennessee road to Mobile.

West Point, Miss., is surrounded by water, and is practically on an island. Every railroad is washed out and nearly all rivers are down. Every bridge in the county is washed away and much stock has been lost. The house in West Point are crowded with water-bound passengers.

The first through train for Mobile on the Mobile and Ohio went out Monday night, but rain began falling again, and it looks now as if the flood would be greater than before.

SUPT. SMITH'S REVENGE.

Jersey City's Chief of Police Has a Man Arrested for Libel.

Frank C. Cole, an influential Jersey City Republican, was arrested to-day at his home on Grand street on complaint of Police Superintendent Smith, who alleges criminal libel uttered against him at a Republican mass meeting held at Wood's Hall, Jersey City, last Thursday evening.

Cole is alleged to have said that Supt. Smith when arrested to-day, caused much trouble by rigging an alarm bell in a fire-engine house on election night for the purpose of creating disorder.

Cole was admitted to bail in $1,000 to await examination. Foreman Smith signing the bond.

MRS. WARREN IS DYING.

The Wife of Holy Trinity's Rector Near Her End.

There was no visible improvement this morning in the condition of Mrs. Warren, wife of Rev. Dr. F. W. Warren, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity. Her illness, which has been a long one, is now in its last stages.

Mrs. Warren has been ill nearly a year, and recently alarming symptoms developed. She is now in an unconscious state, and is nearly sinking.

WANSEER WINS BY OVER 3,300.

Jersey City Reformers and Republicans are Jubilant To-Day.

This Morning's Fire in the City Hall Was a Small Affair.

The fire which broke out in the City Hall, Jersey City, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, while the election returns were being deposited with the City Clerk, was not the work of an incendiary nor was it an attempt, as alleged, on the part of the more indiscreet of the defeated Democrats to destroy the documents proving that they had been vanquished.

The fire was first discovered by Sgt. Cox, who had just stepped out of Police Headquarters, around the corner from City Hall, on Montgomery street, on his way home.

"I saw smoke coming out of the windows of the City Hall," said the sergeant.

An electric fire was the cause of the trouble, and it was not until a question of minutes had elapsed that the fire was extinguished.

The result of the election shows that the Republicans have won by a large majority.

Col. Wanser's election over his Democratic rival, Allan McBurnett, was overwhelming.
